

Milk Rings Paint Smocks and Volunteers Oh My!

Dear Families,

Now that we have our first few days under our belts I wanted to take a moment to tell you that I LOVE THESE KIDS! This a great bunch of boys and girls! I love their excitement for school, kindness towards each other and their energy for everything! I hope you are feeling as good about this new school year as I am!

Just a reminder that most information about Classroom policies can be found in your red parent folder as well as on my web page. If you have any questions that can not be answered there, please feel free to email or send a note.

***Please know that if you email after 8:30 am there is a good chance I will NOT see your email until after school.

Milk Rings

As I mentioned to some of you during supply drop off, we will be collecting milk rings this year (that little plastic ring on the milk jug after you twist off the cap). We be using the rings as part of our daily math routine to work on place value and counting. Please have your child bring them in as you have them (not in a big bunch).

Paint Smocks

I also wanted to remind you to send in paint smocks. We will have art every Tuesday. Your child will need a paint smock to protect their clothing. I recommend a long sleeve shirt that is at least 2 sizes too big. Please be sure to put your child's name on the shirt as well.

Volunteers

I am looking for a parent volunteer each Monday between 9:10 and 10:00 to work with small groups.

In addition I would like to have 4-6 volunteers once per month for special seasonal STEM activities. These activities will last 1-2 hours depending on the activity. I will send home volunteer sign-up sheets at the beginning of each month for these activities.

Thank you in advance for supporting your child's education!
